TEACHING FOR TRANSFORMATION

Annual Conference+ 2024

What is TforT:AC+?

Teaching for Transformation: Annual Conference+ (TforT: AC+) is a three-day immersion in the education paradigms and practices needed for today's health care work. TforT: AC+ involves dialogic keynote sessions, nominated emerging work (NEW) talks, workshops, short talks (submitted abstracts), dialogic roundtables, and space for open dialogue. TforT:AC+ will take place online, enabling an international reach.

Conference+

TforT: AC+ is more than a conference. Registration is limited to foster a dialogic learning environment. Additionally, registrants will gain access to a private website of resources and activities for their ongoing use and an online community for continued resource sharing and mutual support.

Who is it for?

This conference is relevant to health and social care providers, educators, researchers, health/education policy and decision makers, patients/family partners, caregivers, students, and all individuals who share an interest in advancing theory and practice of humanistic and transformative education and critical pedagogies and practices.

Why Community Supporters?

- TforT aims to continually foster a community of practice focused on transformative education in health and social care.
- By becoming a community supporter, your organization can become a part of the TforT community, accessing networks, resources, and shaping the future of the TforT conference, community, and overarching program.
